

Billionaire, Let's Divorce Chapter 5 To 6

Chapter 5

“Tell me what he looks like!”

“I remember it was a month ago, when there was an emergency at the Manor and people were running east. Soon the young master will be back, and his bodyguards won't let us get close to him, so we can only stay far away. However, I could see from afar that the youth was wearing a windbreaker and sunglasses. The windbreaker had a high collar, and from afar, he looked really handsome. It's just that I couldn't see his face clearly ... “

Su Li Gu shook his head regretfully. “Didn't you say you didn't say anything? I just want to know what he looks like. “

Xiao Yue saw through Su Li's worry and comforted her, “Young Mistress, don't worry, young master will not be ugly. Even if he was really ugly, why wouldn't he do it now that the cosmetic surgery industry was so developed and he was so rich? You say that, don't you? “

Su Li Qu forced a smile, feeling that Xiao Yue was too naive.

He looked around him again, and only when there was no one else did Quercus Suli dare to speak his mind to Xiao Yue. “But if he doesn't look scary, why did he turn out the lights? Even my wife can't know what he looks like. “There must be some secret behind it. If he's ugly, that's fine. But if there's some other reason ...”

Xiao Yue did not take into consideration Su Li's worries. Instead, she happily said, “Young Mistress, this matter, no matter how hard you think, you wouldn't be able to figure it out. It was better to eat in peace! Do you want me to feed you? “

Su Li quickly waved his hand: “No need, no need.”

Xiao Yue laughed.

After breakfast, the steward came over and said to Suli Oak, "Young Master has already instructed, you can go back to your parents' house for lunch today. The car and bodyguards have already arranged everything. When will you be leaving?"

Suri was surprised that the man was still thinking for her? She originally thought that it would be difficult to get out after entering this place, but she didn't expect that she would be able to return to her parents' home. It was simply too great.

She could not wait to say, "I'll leave now."

The butler expressionlessly replied, "Alright, please follow me."

As Su Li followed behind the butler, he couldn't help but think of what Xiao Yue had just said. She had said that the butler had watched Xing Beihan grow up.

She asked tentatively, "Butler, did you watch your young master grow up?"

A hint of a smile suddenly appeared on the butler's face. "Of course," she said. "I've worked at the Xing Family for many years. When I first came here, young master was still in kindergarten, and in the blink of an eye, he had already gotten married."

"Is there something wrong with his face?" asked Suli.

The steward was silent for a moment. Then he said, "It doesn't matter if he is flawed or not. He is your husband."

Su Li quickly explained, "I know, I don't regret it. I'm just curious."

The butler lowered his voice and said, "Curiosity can kill people. Sometimes, it's better for people to be stupid. "There are some things that it's best to pretend you don't know, otherwise it's easy to be smart and be misled."

Su Li asked in confusion, "What do you mean by that?"

The steward replied with an emotionless expression, "Don't be too curious, otherwise you will be on fire."

"Alright." Su Li nodded his head heavily.

The steward obviously had something in his words. What did she mean? Could it be that there really was something wrong with Xing Beihan's face?

Although she knew that curiosity would kill the cat, there was nothing she could do. She was born to be curious.

Forget it, forget it. She shouldn't think about this annoying question anymore. She should think about how to get along with her parents after returning to her parents' home.

On the way home, Su Li took out his cell phone and began Xing Beihan's name. Soon enough, Xing Beihan's Encyclopedia appeared on the search engine.

Before marrying Xing Beihan, Su Li hadn't thought that her future husband would be so powerful. He had even thought that his name wouldn't be found online, so he hadn't searched for it.

He saw that Xing Beihan, 29 years old, stood at 1 meter 88, and loved to ride and swim. He is currently president of the H.E Group in Asia Pacific.

Xing Beihan had always appeared and disappeared without a trace, so it was hard for the media to track him down. Unlike the other rich young masters, he rarely spread rumors despite the numerous beauties in his entertainment company. At the same time, its emotional state and its true appearance had always been a mystery.

Su Li was a bit disappointed. This man was really too mysterious. As the president of the famous H.E Group in Asia and the Pacific, not even the Internet shows what he looks like...

The expensive Rolls-Royce slowly drove into a dilapidated residential area, and the passersby all stopped to watch. It was rare to see such a luxury car here.

The compound had been built more than 20 years ago, and the highest building was only seven stories tall. The outer walls were dilapidated and dilapidated. The home of the Quercus Suli was on the seventh floor of one of the buildings. There were no elevators in the building, so they could only rely on it.

The Suli oak was used to going from the first floor to the seventh, and it was easy for her. At home, she suddenly felt a little uncomfortable. He had gotten used to living in such a large manor for the past two days. When he looked at his own home again, he suddenly felt that it was as if he was a small snail shell.

She could live in such a nice house, but her parents could only live here.

Knowing that she was going back to her parents' home, the aunt had arrived a long time ago. The small house was packed with people. Everyone was discussing the matter at once. As soon as they saw Su Li, they immediately came to help her carry her things.

Suli Quercus was not used to his relatives' courteous actions, so he awkwardly smiled.

"What about my parents?"

"Your mother is cooking in the kitchen. Your father is lying in bed."

"Are they feeling better?"

"Well, it's better than it used to be. Not only are you in good health, but you're also in great spirits, especially when it comes to getting married so well, and you can't stop smiling."

"That's good."

Perhaps in the eyes of outsiders, she had married well, and her husband's family was something many people dreamed of, but only she knew the bitterness.

After changing his shoes and putting down his bag, the first thing Chu Feng did was to find his parents. Seeing her parents tougher and happier, she felt that she had done nothing wrong in marrying someone.

Suli Oak was in the kitchen cooking with her mother, and her two bodyguards were standing to her left and right, not saying a word. At the same time, the aunt and the second aunt also helped. They had been talking about the Suli oaks, saying that she had married well and had been lucky.

The aunt cut vegetables while saying excitedly, "I already said my family's words are good, but others don't believe me. When I saw your face, I knew that you would grow up to be full of fortune, and that I had hit the mark on you, right? "Remember, now that you're married, don't forget your family. Come back often and visit us relatives. We're all waiting for your help!"

Su Li was speechless. Since when did my aunt say that her life was better?

Chapter6

In her opinion, her relatives had not been good to her recently.

Her mother had been sick ever since she could remember. Her father was the only labourer in the family, and he had to help her go to school and treat her illness. He was short of money. Because her family was poor, she had been dressed in rags ever since she was young. She had always been ridiculed and looked down upon by people. These relatives weren't good to her either. Every new year, she wouldn't even be able to receive the New Year's money.

Now that she had married into a rich family, her life had actually improved from a small one?

The human heart is so hypocritical.

Second Aunt said, "Look, if you marry a rich person, that's different. We can't afford to buy the clothes you're wearing. What kind of material is this? How much does it cost? "

"I don't know. I took it from the closet."

"You took such good clothes at random?" You're too happy, aren't you? Unlike us, who worry about food, oil, and salt all the time. "Oh yeah, does your company have a job offer? Our family's Shan Shan, it's almost time to graduate, help recommend it. No matter what, you are cousins."

"I don't care about the company." Zurich said expressionlessly.

Did she think that just by marrying Xing Beihan, she could interfere with the company's affairs? How could there be such a good thing? She didn't even have the freedom to go out. But she couldn't say it to avoid worrying her parents and making people gossip about her.

When dinner was ready, all the aunts sat around the table, waiting for Zurich to move her chopsticks. She didn't eat, and no one else did. Everyone looked at her with eager eyes, as if they liked her very much.

During meals, there were always people who wanted to serve her food while caring about her. She hadn't had this treatment before.

And what these people were thinking, the Suli oak tree was very clear.

Her family was much worse off than theirs, but in one night she was paid two million dollars to marry into a rich family, leave a Rolls-Royce, and return home with two bodyguards. The relatives naturally had to fawn over all this.

This was repugnant to Quercus, for they were too hypocritical. The more they smiled at her, the less she could smile, and the more she thought about the cold eyes these relatives had once given her, the less she could eat. On the other hand, Quercus Suli's parents were laughing very happily.

While eating, the aunt suddenly asked, "Oh right, why isn't your husband here?"

"He's busy."

Aunt said sharply, "So he was busy with work. I thought he would come later." I say, no matter how busy I am, I still have to accompany you back to your parents' home, right? "Tsk tsk, since you guys didn't finish the wedding, then forget it. If he doesn't even accompany you back to your parents' home, then how much less respect do he have for you?"

Just at this time, Mr Su immediately retorted back, "Don't speak nonsense. He's the CEO, so it's only natural that he's busy every day. Why don't you respect my words? Can she marry her home without respect? " With that, he began to cough violently.

Su Li quickly comforted: "Dad, don't be angry. Be careful not to hurt your body."

Mr Su blushed and said, "I felt uncomfortable listening to her say that!"

Aunt was not aware of her mistake and said smilingly, "Brother-in-law, don't be angry. It's not that I have bad intentions, it's just a reminder to Yan Yu. Look, not just anyone can marry into a rich family. Since you've already married into the family, you must have the respect of the husband family. Otherwise, how are you going to get a foothold? But were they thinking too highly of themselves? After all, he did marry our family's daughter, Huang Hua, and we didn't even meet her in person. Do you think that's proper? You two elders must take care of this matter. Otherwise, if your daughter does not have any status in her family in the future, she might be swept out of the sect one day! "

Second Aunt added, "That's right, I think what she said makes sense. Going back to their parents' home was very important to a woman. Don't think that just because they had a few coins, they didn't know even the most basic etiquette! How can words be happy in their family? "

Aunt said, "What is the most important thing in the Wealthy Class? It wasn't the car or money. The most important thing was this person! If he really cares about you, why doesn't he help you with the wedding? Aren't I going home with you? What did all this mean? It means that he doesn't care about you at all! If you ask me, you can be poor, but you can't be happy. If you let me eat and drink and no one loves me every day, then I won't do it for a thousand times over. "

The Suli oak listened to them talk, almost unable to eat, for their parents only reluctantly sat at the table, a fake smile on his face. Although she really wanted to curse, she had to laugh. She had to smile to prevent them from thinking that she had spoken the truth.

Father Su was silent for a while before he turned around and asked Su Li, "Are they right?"

Su Li didn't know how to reply. She wasn't good at lying. After a moment of silence, she bit her lips and said, "I will be happy."

Mr Su nodded affirmatively and revealed a satisfied smile. The words of having a daughter was enough. As long as she was happy, it was enough. As for these people's rumors, he had completely ignored them.

After a meal, the seven aunts and eight aunts scolded the Suli oak tree no less than 30 times. After you finished singing, I went on stage, just like I had scolded the Suli oak tree. Everyone was making fun of her in the name of kindness. Su Li was helpless, and wanted to scold her back, but had to respect the dignity of the elders.

These relatives were all very hypocritical. Everyone was wearing a fake face. Was it that interesting?

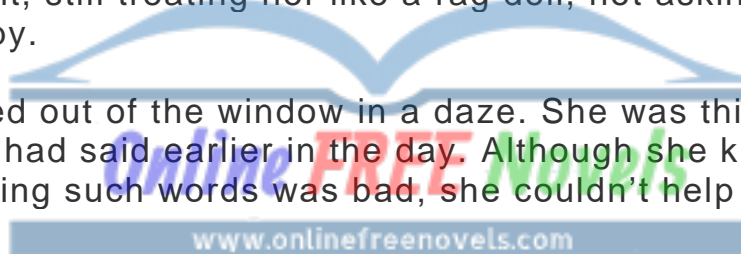

Suli oak is very speechless, from now on, she tried to avoid these relatives, so as to avoid annoyance.

Three hours after lunch, the bodyguard began to urge Quercus Suli back. These few days, she was still in the ovulation period. In order to have a child, she had to go back in the evening. This was an order from Xing Beihan. No one was allowed to disobey.

The Suli oak reluctantly left his parents and returned to the beautiful yet terrifying manor.

That night, Xing Beihan arrived. He still turned off the lights, still remained silent, still treating her like a rag doll, not asking if she was willing or happy.

Suri Oak stared out of the window in a daze. She was thinking back to what her aunt had said earlier in the day. Although she knew that their motive for saying such words was bad, she couldn't help but to put it in her heart.

Although the words sounded a bit harsh, wasn't it right as well?

Xing Beihan didn't take her seriously at all. She was nothing more than a child's machine. There was no wedding, and he would not accompany her home. He would not even let her see his face. Could all of this be considered a normal relationship between husband and wife?

She didn't want to see how much love this interconnected marriage could bring, but at least it had to be normal! Not only was this relationship abnormal, it was also very deformed and unfair!

All the grievances and grievances she had suffered these past few days appeared in Su Li's mind one by one. She could not bear it any longer!

She shook off Xing Beihan's hand and snappily said, "If you don't let me see your face, then don't touch me."
